

Concurrent Technologies joins the VMware Technology Alliance Partner Program

January 2019 – Concurrent Technologies, a leading supplier of boards and solutions for critical embedded applications, today announced it has joined the VMware Technology Alliance Partner \(TAP\) program as a standard level partner. Members of the TAP program collaborate with VMware to deliver innovative solutions for virtualization and cloud computing. The diversity and depth of the TAP ecosystem provides customers with the flexibility to choose a partner with the right expertise to satisfy their unique needs.

With thousands of members worldwide, the VMware TAP program includes technology partners with the shared goal to bring the best expertise and business solutions for each unique customer environment.

“We welcome Concurrent Technologies as a valued member of the VMware TAP program,” said Kristen Edwards, Director, Technology Alliance Partner Program, VMware. “This membership means customers can take full advantage of a streamlined cloud infrastructure experience. By joining the program, Concurrent Technologies is working with VMware to develop technologies that can transform customers’ environments.”

Concurrent Technologies’ product information, collateral and other assets are listed within the online VMware Solution Exchange. The VMware Solution Exchange is an online marketplace where VMware partners and developers can publish rich marketing content and downloadable software for our customers.
