

Eacon – New Field Terminated Microwave Cable Assemblies

HUBER+SUHNER has enhanced its microwave cable assemblies product portfolio with the extended field terminated Eacon cable. Eacon stands for a simple, flexible and fast way to assemble microwave cables and connectors in the field without compromises to the best performance.

Eacon – new field terminated microwave cable assemblies

HUBER+SUHNER extends its Eacon product range with new cables and connectors such as Eacon 2C and Eacon 6C. Eacon stands for a simple, flexible and fast way to assemble microwave cables and connectors in the field without compromises to the best performance. The new field terminated microwave cables and connectors are light and waterproofed, built for frequencies up to 18 GHz and ready for use in the defense as well as generally in the industrial market.

Product benefits

- Easy and time saving assembling
- Taking on site decision regarding length and configurations
- Extremely reliable
- Assembling tool kits available

Contacts

For detailed information, please review the datasheets or contact your application engineer