

Strategic Marine Delivers Two Windfarm Service Vessels to Njord Offshore

May 22nd, 2013

Specialist boat builder Strategic Marine has delivered the Njord Puffin to offshore windfarm service fleet operator Njord Offshore for deployment in Northern Europe.

“The Puffin is the sixth in a series of eight vessels ordered, a strong signal of our commitment to the global windfarm industry,” said Rodney Davies, Operations Manager at Strategic Marine.

“Last week we delivered the fifth, the Njord Petrel. Vessels seven and eight are due for delivery in early 2014.”

About Strategic Marine

Strategic Marine, with operations in Singapore, Western Australia and Vietnam, is one of the world's leading specialist shipbuilding and engineering companies. Strategic operates principally in the offshore sectors, producing high quality crew boats, support vessels, passenger ferries, and high-speed patrol boats at shipyards in Singapore and Vietnam.

Since incorporating in 2001, Strategic has processed over 600 vessels for a variety of clients in the maritime, offshore and naval defence sectors.

Strategic's solid reputation for the manufacture of high-performance ships, historically focused on aluminium vessels, has also become associated with steel-based construction over the years. In addition to its growing newbuild capabilities, which now include diversification into state-of-the-art offshore windfarm service vessels, Strategic provides maritime solutions in refit/repair, support fabrication and shipping infrastructure. Strategic's operation in Perth, Western Australia, focuses on a comprehensive suite of maritime fabrication and logistics services.

Beginning 2013, Strategic will commence building crew and windfarm sector vessels for stock request, shortening delivery periods to meet increased market demand.
